

Good afternoon Gentlemen,

I am thrilled to be writing this email informing you that the men's retreat is just days away. Attached, you will find an itinerary for this weekend's activities. Included in the body of this email is the conference center's website and a map from Church of the Atonement to Skycroft Conference Center, for your reference.

Bedding and towels are provided by the Conference Center. Guests are expected to bring all other toiletries and necessities.

For those who are not inclined to scour the itinerary for details (obviously due to it being too exhilarating), please let me summarize our weekend's schedule. Check in will begin at 5:00PM on Friday, with dinner starting at 6:30PM. For those joining on Saturday only, all three meals have been included in your cost. Please feel free to join us for breakfast starting at 7:30AM. Otherwise, our first session will begin at 8:30AM. Finally, check out will be promptly at 11:00AM on Sunday.

I am looking forward to a weekend of rest, encouragement, learning, and worship with you all. Please feel free to reach out to me at any time with questions, comments, or concerns.

Regards,

--Nate (on behalf of the Men's Ministry Committee)

Church of the Atonement

Spring Retreat 2025

Professor Glodo has served on the Orlando faculty since 1991 with the exception of six years as Stated Clerk (Chief Administrative Officer) of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church (2000-2006). During that time he has taught Old Testament, New Testament, Preaching, Pastoral Theology, Worship, and Hermeneutics as well as a variety of electives including Zechariah, Old Testament Law, Biblical Missional Theology, and Proverbs. He also served as Dean of the Chapel for many years where he planned, led, coordinated, and preached in weekly chapel services.

The diversity of the courses Professor Glodo teaches reflects his diverse research and ministry interests. Of particular interest to him, as reflected throughout his courses, is the centrality of the church as God's people on mission and media ecology. In addition to serving in a variety of leadership roles in the Evangelical Presbyterian Church, he has also served in pastoral roles in churches in the St. Louis region. He maintains an active pulpit ministry, consults with churches, and has served in interim pastor roles for churches in transition. Students appreciate Professor Glodo's warm and approachable demeanor, his deep desire to build relationships with those he teaches, and his love for the Church. He has been a member minister of the Presbyterian Church in America since 2021. Mike and his wife Vicki, have a daughter Rachel and a son Samuel who is married to Abbie.
